Expertise built on KNOWLEDGE.

The Brehmer Agency knows contractor safety. Being focused on the construction industry, we know the challenges that our contractors face on a daily basis from a safety management perspective. Our on-staff safety professionals are extremely fluent in the variety of federal, state and local regulations that impact our industry partners and are at your disposal to assist in any way possible.

Confidence built on EXPERIENCE.

There is no substitute for experience... and experience only comes from doing something exceptionally well for many years. Beginning its Fourth Decade, the Brehmer Agency has serviced a diverse range of more than 500 construction-industry clients, each requiring custom safety solutions to their specific needs.

Partnering built on TRUST.

Trust is earned, not given. The Brehmer Agency's impeccable reputation for integrity and outstanding customer service is the agency's foundation for growth. We will work hard for you every day, making sure you know that you are a valued partner. Our professionalism and service is unmatched in the industry.

Surety Bonding & Insurance

Wisconsin's Largest Independently Owned Surety Bonding Agency

Safety is No Accident

Because the daily challenges of running a business are demanding, safety is often overlooked. Nonetheless, employers have a moral and legal responsibility to implement and maintain a safe workplace. Unfortunately, most contractors do not have a dedicated safety professional to implement this, nor are they aware of all that OSHA requires. We are here to help.

The Brehmer Agency's safety professionals can work with your organization to supplement your current safety program or assist in developing a new program. Additionally, we offer a variety of other services that are all geared toward making sure that your employees go home safely each and every day. Our services have the added benefit of reducing the likelihood of insurance claims which ultimately saves your company money on insurance costs.

Beginning Our 4th Decade

In 1980, with a strong work ethic and commitment to customer service, Randy Brehmer established the Brehmer Agency. Specializing in surety bonding, business insurance and safety services for contractors, the agency quickly developed a reputation for knowledge, integrity and outstanding customer service. Today, the Brehmer Agency consists of a team of committed, highly trained professionals united by a common thread of dedication to providing superior customer service in all that we do.
